A Message from the President of Malki Museum

I cannot find words to express my satisfaction with the appearance of The Journal of California Anthropology. For many years it has been my desire that such a publication exist to present the valuable information that has been gathered in the past, and that is currently being collected. It will not only benefit the scholars who are studying the First People of the State, but will be very informative to the general public.

The Journal is an outlet for all of this information to be shared.

All contributors, readers, and interested people, welcome to The Journal of California Anthropology.
