

UCLA

Mester

Title

[Contributors]

Permalink

<https://escholarship.org/uc/item/34x5j4cv>

Journal

Mester, 16(2)

Author

Mester, [No author]

Publication Date

1987

DOI

10.5070/M3162013833

Copyright Information

Copyright 1987 by the author(s). All rights reserved unless otherwise indicated. Contact the author(s) for any necessary permissions. Learn more at <https://escholarship.org/terms>

Contributors

DULEEP DEOSTHALE is a doctoral candidate at the University of California, Los Angeles, currently working on his dissertation on 20th Century Drama as a Del Amo Scholar in Spain. After studying Interpretation and Translation at Jawaharlal Nehru University in New Delhi, India, he received a Diploma de Estudios Hispánicos from the University of Barcelona and an M.A. in Spanish Literature from Indiana State University in 1984.

ANGELES EZAMA GIL received her M.A. in Filología Hispánica, with a concentration in the 19th Century Spanish Short Story. She is currently working on her PhD dissertation, entitled La narración corta en la prensa periódica de 1890 a 1900, and on the article "Juan Ochoa: Hacia una comprensión del relato breve."

CRISTINA FERREIRA-PINTO is a PhD candidate in Brazilian and Spanish-American Literatures at Tulane University. Among her publications are A Viagem do Herói no Romano de Antônio Callado, published in Brasília, and the article "Os dois mundos de Teodorico Raposo: um estudo de A Relíquia" in Boletim Informativo of the University of São Paulo, both in 1985.

JEAN GRAHAM-JONES received her Bachelor's degrees in Spanish and English from Lewis and Clark College in Oregon. Her M.A. is from UCLA, where she is a doctoral student specializing in Contemporary Latin American Theatre. Her review of the play Quíntuples by Luis Rafael Sánchez appears in the May 1987 issue of Hispania. She is also an actress with extensive training in physical theatre and contact improvisation.

DIANA LUI is an undergraduate at UCLA majoring in Art and Art History. Among her specialties are Chinese Ink Painting, Photography, Sculpting, Fashion Illustration, and Drawing. Her work has appeared in various journals and yearbooks, and she is currently working on a charcoal project for Westwind, UCLA's journal of the Arts. Her short term goal is to become enrolled in the Art Center College of Design.

MARÍA PILAR MARTÍNEZ LATRE is a professor at the University of Zaragoza in Spain. She received her M.A. from the Universidad Complutense in Madrid and her PhD from the University of Zaragoza. Her specialization is Contemporary Spanish Literature. Since 1979 she has been the director of Cuadernos de Investigación Filológica. Publications include studies on Benjamín Jarnés and Felix Urabayen, as well as the article "Juan José Millas y la estrategia narrativa de Papel mojado" which appeared in Mester XVI.1.

LAURA RADCHIK is a graduate student at UCLA specializing in Contemporary Spanish Literature. She received her B.A. in Philosophy from the Universidad La Salle in Mexico City. She has published in Revista Logos de Filosofía, Universidad La Salle, and has a book of poetry and fiction entitled Sueño y escarcha.

J. W. RIVERS received his M.A. from the Universidad de las Américas (formerly Mexico City College). His work appears in several journals, including Chasqui, Confluencia, Revista Chicano-Riqueña, and Revista Interamericana. He has also published a book on poetry entitled When the Owl Cries, Indians Die: Poems of Mexico and the Southwest in 1986.

LUIS MIGUEL VICENTE received his B.A. and M.A. from the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid. After beginning his doctoral work at the University of Georgia, he came to UCLA as a Del Amo Scholar, where he is currently working on his dissertation on Medieval Peninsular Literature.