UCSC University Library
Synergy Lectures presents:

Climate Change and Extinctions

Happening Right
Here, Right Now

Speaker:

Distinguished Professor
Barry Sinervo, Ecology &
Evolutionary Biology

WEDNESDAY APRIL 24TH
3PM-4PM

Science & Engineering Library
Current Periodicals Room

The Synergy Lecture Series is excited to welcome Distinguished Professor Dr. Barry Sinervo as our Synergy Lecturer for Spring 2013. He will present a climate change extinction model that has been validated by known lizard extinctions, and explain how this model can be extended to other vertebrates.

The Synergy lecture series focuses on UCSC research, as well as teaching and grants in science & engineering with a view towards their impact on society.

The Library wishes to make its services accessible to people with disabilities. Please call 459-3586 as soon as possible for accommodation or parking information.
