San Diego Linguistic Papers 2

2006

Welcome to the second issue of San Diego Linguistic Papers, the on-line working papers occasionally published by the Department of Linguistics, University of California, San Diego.

Our first issue, edited by Sharon Rose in 2003, contained five papers in phonology. This second issue contains five papers representing a wider spectrum of the linguistic research conducted at UCSD. Associate professor Amalia Arvaniti has contributed two papers on sociolinguistic issues in Cypriot Greek, and graduate students Jeremy Boyd, Shin Fukuda, and Hannah Rohde have contributed papers in phonology, syntax and semantics, respectively.

Sincerely,

SDLP Committee

Eric Bakovic, Shin Fukuda, George Gibbard, Chi-ju Hsieh
