Special Issue: women and gender

The UCLA Historical Journal is seeking articles and book reviews for a special issue on women and gender to be published in the fall of 1994. The Journal is dedicated to publishing quality work by graduate students in history and welcomes interdisciplinary approaches to historical studies.

Please submit manuscripts in triplicate accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope no later than March 1, 1994, to Editor-in-chief, UCLA Historical Journal, Dept. of History, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90024. All submitted work should be double-spaced, including footnotes. For questions of style, consult the University of Chicago Manual of Style or Kate Turabian A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses and Dissertations. Manuscripts, including footnotes, should be no more than 40 pages in length. Because submissions are evaluated anonymously, the author's name should appear only on the title page.

The Journal is also interested in publishing reviews of recently published books (of the submitter's own choice) which focus on the issues raised in this special volume. Book reviews should include a concise synopsis of the book, a brief historiography providing context, an analysis of how the book contributes to the field, or fails to do so. Book reviews should be five to seven pages in length (double-spaced) and should conform to the requirements described above for articles. Book reviews should be sent in triplicate no later than March 1, 1994, to Book Review Editor, The UCLA Historical Journal, Department of History, University of California, Los Angeles, Los Angeles, CA 90024.
