Presidential Postdoctoral Fellowship Program 2014-15, University of California

We invite biogeographers eligible for the University of California's Presidential Postdoctoral Fellowship Program (PPFP; <http://ppfp.ucop.edu/info/>) to contact us about projects at the intersection of paleoecology (Blois Lab) and evolution (Dawson Lab). We are looking for a colleague and collaborator who will enrich an ongoing study of community responses to environmental change using tropical marine lakes as a model system (<http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2013/nsf13042/nsf13042.pdf>). For more information, see our labs' websites (<http://jessicablois.com>; <http://mnd.ucmerced.edu>), the project abstract (www.nsf.gov/awardsearch/showAward?AWD_ID=1241255), then write to us (at jblois@ucmerced.edu and mdawson@ucmerced.edu). Successful PPFP applicants receive salary support and research funds for 2 years and subsequently are eligible for the University of California President's hiring incentive (<http://ppfp.ucop.edu/info/fellowship-recipients/hiring-incentive.html>) to encourage transition of fellows into tenure track faculty positions at any of the UC campuses. The deadline for submitting applications to the University of California is 01 November 2014.

To post jobs, advertisements, or other announcements please contact the Frontiers of Biogeography editorial office (frontiersofbiogeography@googlemail.com). Advertisements are $50 per quarter page for professional or institutional positions. Announcements are free to members for vacancies in their lab. All advertisements and announcements also appear at no additional cost on the IBS facebook page (in abbreviated form) and on the IBS Blog (in long, or longer form).
