

UC Santa Barbara

react/review: a responsive journal for art & architecture

Title

Front matter

Permalink

<https://escholarship.org/uc/item/95d700gg>

Journal

react/review: a responsive journal for art & architecture, 1(0)

Author

Editorial, Board

Publication Date

2021

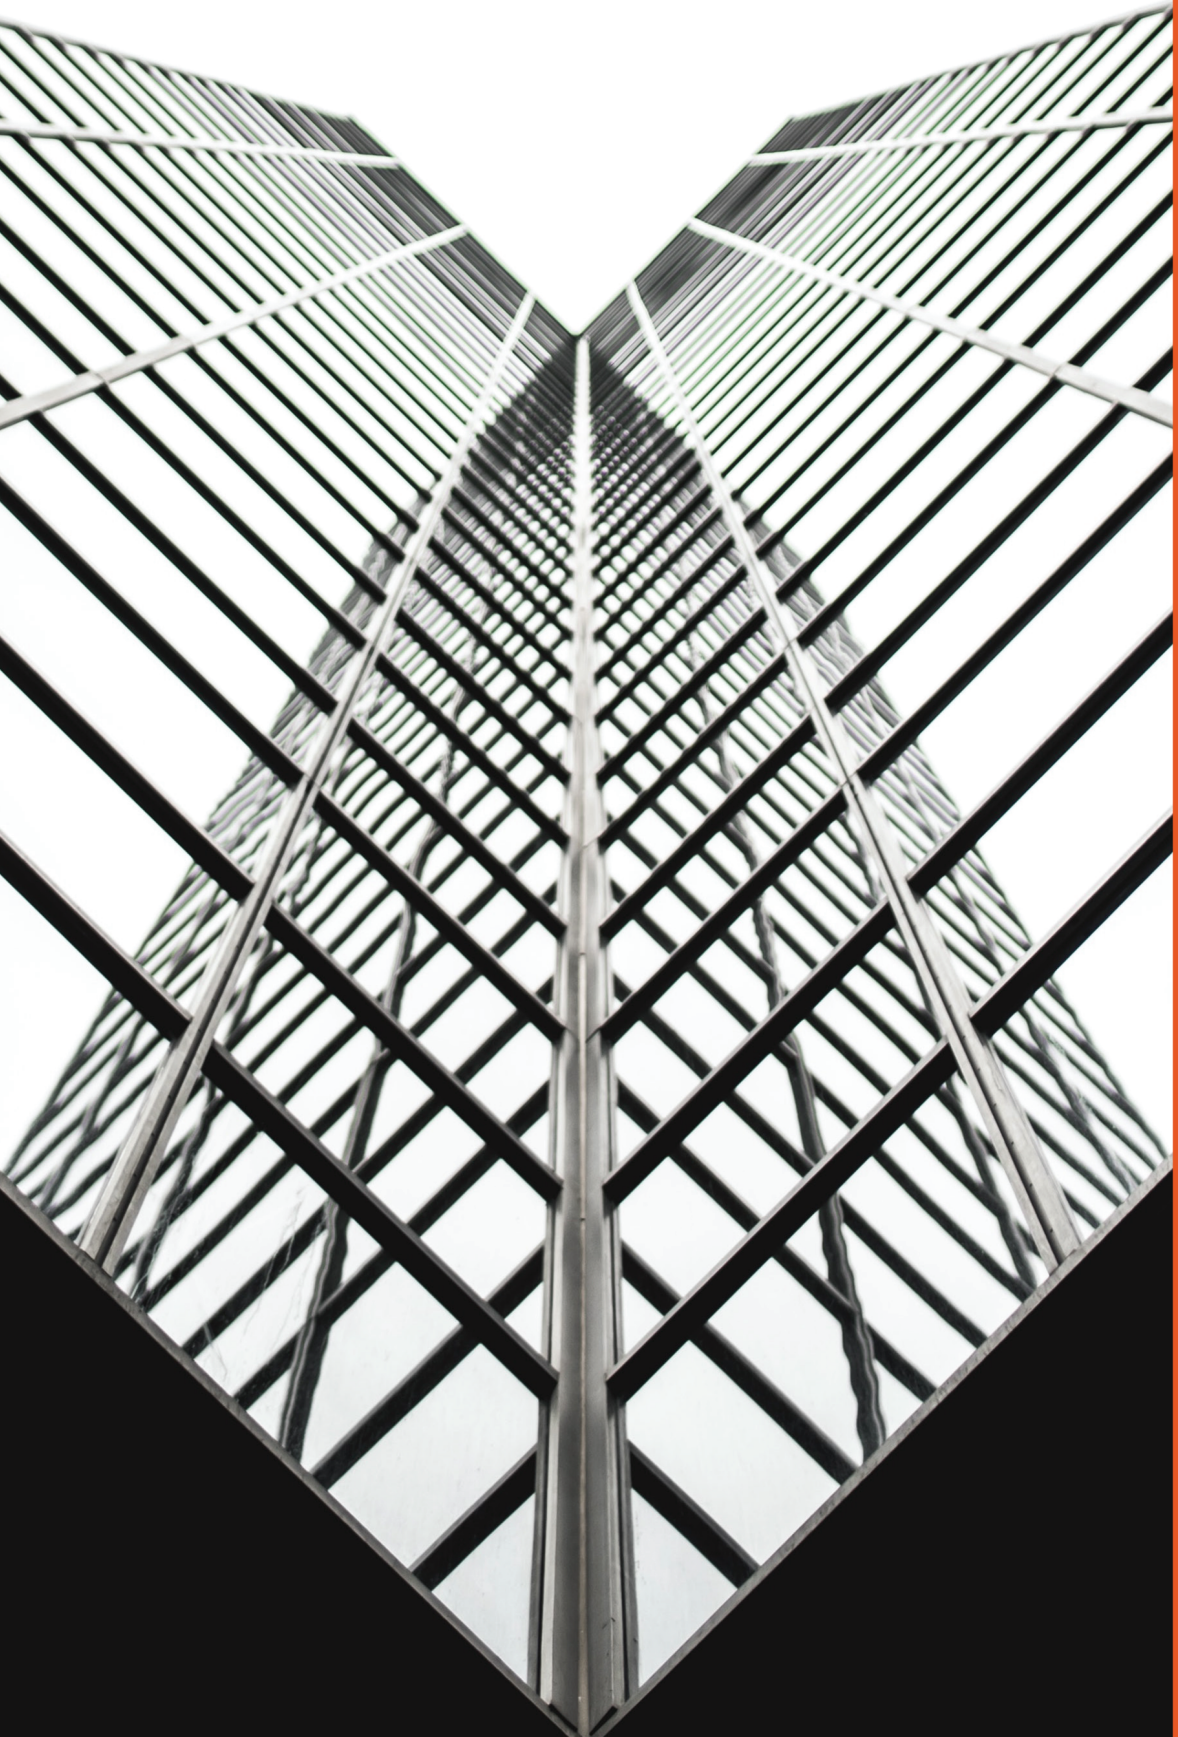

DOI

10.5070/R51053034

Copyright Information

Copyright 2021 by the author(s). This work is made available under the terms of a Creative Commons Attribution License, available at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>

Peer reviewed

react/review

a responsive journal for art & architecture

react/review:
a responsive journal
for art & architecture

representation, materiality, & the environment volume 1

may 2021

managing editors

Felicity Backenstose Good Taylor Van Doorne

faculty advisor

Jenni Sorkin

editorial board

Hannah Kagan-Moore
Iman Salty
Nathan Segura
Megan J. Sheard
Rachel Winter

cover and inserts design

Jessica Wei, 2020

contact

escholarship.org/uc/reactreview reactreviewjournal@gmail.com

editorial statement

react/review: a responsive journal for art & architecture is a peer-reviewed responsive journal produced by graduate students in the department of the History of Art & Architecture at UC Santa Barbara. react/review is an open-source journal published annually on eScholarship, is an open access publishing platform by the University of California and managed by the California Digital Library.

Copyright © 2021

acknowledgements

Several people made the debut volume of react/review possible. We are indebted to react/review's faculty mentor, Dr. Jenni Sorkin, who guided this project from its inception. Dr. Laurie Monahan, on behalf of UCSB's Department of the History of Art and Architecture, has been a tremendous advocate of both the journal and the department's graduate students. We are also thankful for the continued administrative support of Christian Brown, Jackie Spafford, and Christine Fritsch.

Likewise, we would like to thank those who supported the 2020 Art History Graduate Student Association graduate symposium, "Representation, Materiality, & the Environment," from which this journal derives. In addition to those mentioned above, we would like to thank Dr. Mark Meadow for guiding the symposium in the early stages of planning. Dr. Daniela Bleichmar agreed to deliver what promised to be a fascinating keynote address on her research regarding scientific illustrations of the natural world in colonial Latin America. Lastly, we are humbled by the departments and research centers at UCSB who pledged to sponsor the symposium, including: the Graduate Division; History of Art and Architecture; Dean John Majewski of the School of the Humanities and Fine Arts; Graduate Center for Literary Research; Multicultural Center, Environmental Humanities Initiative; the Art, Design & Architecture Museum; the Bren School; East Asian Studies; English; Environmental Sciences; German and Slavic Studies; Religious Studies; Sociology; Spanish and Portuguese; Classics; and French and Italian.

(page left intentionally blank)

contents

- 7 Introduction: Representation, Materiality, & the Environment
Taylor Van Doorne & Felicity Backenstose Good
- feature articles
- 15 Revolution, Renewable: Subsoil Political Ecologies in Rivera's Song of the Earth
Grace Kuipers
- 24 The Future that Lies Beneath a response by Nathan Segura
- 27 You Can Be Sure of Shell: Oil, Empire, and Landscape in Interwar Britain
Tobah Aukland-Peck
- 44 Landscapes of Elision: Nostalgia and Imperial Networks
a response by Megan J. Sheard
- 47 The Landscapes & Material Culture of Empire
a response by Rachel Winter
- 51 Outside of Architecture: Between Mediating and Navigating the Air Kataryna Balug
- 63 In Flux: The Ontological Status of Inflatable Forms a response by Iman Salty

research spotlights

69 Improvising Field Research in COVID-era Hackerspaces
Ben Jameson-Ellsmore

75 Crafting Environmental Citizens
Matthew K. Limb

reviews

81 Book: Christopher P. Heuer, Into the White: The Renaissance Arctic and the End of the Image
Hannah Kagan-Moore

84 Exhibition: Toward Our Digital Futures, a review of @socialdistancegallery
Matthew K. Limb